PROBLEMS PILING UP FOR HOOVER SOLUTION

NO FARM AID MEASURE PASSES THIS SESSION

THAT MEANS HOOVER WILL HAVE TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION

ANOTHER THING WILL BE PRO-HIBITION INVESTIGATION BY BODY OF EXPERTS
By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 4. — Problems are accumulating rapidly on the doorstep of the house out on "S"
street in anticipation of President-elect Hoover's arrival Sunday.

The first bad news to greet him will be the word that hope of passing a farm relief measure at this session of congress practically has disappeared. That means Mr. Hoover will be obliged to call a special session of congress in accordance with his campaign pledge.

This is not a welcome thought to any new president for it means that added the woes attendant upon taking care of thousands of political job-seekers, he must worry with a new congress.

There will be more to worry about in the next congress than usual because not only is the complete subject of farm relief coming up but the even more delicate problem of tariff revision.

In the campaign Hoover proposed a prohibition investigation by a commission of experts. It will be difficult for him to escape taking some action because there is no indication the prohibition problem is going to dispose of itself in the near future.

The problem is about to be passed on to Mr. Hoover and from its appearance now, it won't be long until Mr. Hoover will be wishing he were far away, on some good-will tour
where the ghost of old John Barleycorn would let him alone.

Pressure again is growing for a thorough reappraisal of federal prohibition. The question of repealing the eighteenth amendment is not involved—except academically—for no wet whose judgment entitles him to an opinion believes the amendment will be repealed.

The issue slowly is swinging around to the question of enforcement. Many wets are coming to believe that the best strategy is to strangle prohibition with helping hands. They would appropriate $275,000,000 or so to provide the most rigorous enforcement conceivable in the hope it would lead to repeal of the prohibition amendment.

PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE OF CONCILIATION

MEETS TO RATIFY FORMALLY 3
IMPORTANT ACHIEVE-MENTS

PREVENTION OF WAR BETWEEN BOLIVIA AND PARAGUAY
SIGNED BY PROTOCOL

Washington, Jan. 4. — (UP) — A plenary session of the Pan-American conference of conciliation and arbitration met today to ratify formally three achievements important in the history of Pan-Americanism.

These accomplishments are:
First: Prevention of war between Bolivia and Paraguay by the signature last night of a protocol between the two nations providing for a peaceful settlement of their border conflict.

Second: A treaty of obligatory arbitration among the American nations extending compulsory arbitration farther than ever before provided in a pact among so many counties.

Third: A convention of compulsory conciliation among the nations of the western hemisphere setting up a permanent organism of conciliation,
which is also wider in scope than any other pact of its kind ever negotiated.

Today's scheduled plenary session
was a prelude to the final adjournment of the conference probably on Saturday, when the treaty of arbitration and the convention of conciliation to be approved today will be signed.

STEAMER MALAKOFF SINKS IN STORM; 27 OF CREW LOST

Madrid, Jan. 4. — (UP) — The steamship Malakoff sank off Am-hon, Minorca Island, today in a storm and 27 of her crew were lost. Six were saved.

The Malakoff was driven on the rocks off Amhon last night when the lighthouse became obscured in rain and fog. The crew, asleep in their bunks, had little chance to escape as the vessel sank within seven minutes.

It was apparent only the watch managed to clear the distressed vessel.

The Malakoff was built at Newcastle, England, and she was of 4,300 tons burden.

GIANT ARMY QUESTION MARK BREAKS RECORDS

THIRD ENDURANCE MARK IS BROKEN EARLY THIS MORNING

ROARS ON OVER SOUTHERN CALI-FORNIA TO AMASS MORE GLORY

Los Angeles, Jan. 4. — Holding all records for heavier-than-air endurance, the Question Mark, army trimotored plane, was cruising over southern California today, intent on breaking sustained flight marks for every type of aircraft.

Its motors and its crew were reported in condition to remain aloft
perhaps as long as 10 days, a goal set by the army fliers just before they took off Tuesday at 7:26:45
A. M.

Three records already have fallen before the Question Mark. First it wiped out the American mark for refueling endurance, then it exceeded the world's refueling endurance and next the world's record for sustained flight by a heavier-than-air machine.

The Question Mark's immediate goal was the 118-hour flight of the French dirigible Dixmude, the longest ever made by an aircraft.

Since the Question Mark refuels
in mid-air, it technically can not take away honors for the sustained flight mark without refueling.

Just before 9:30 A. M. central standard time today the army ship
passed its 72nd hour in the air.

At the time it was flying over the Imperial Valley where it remained through the night and where it intended to fly until fog banks lifted and permitted passage north to the Metropolitan field at Van Nuys.

Officials announced that Rockwell
field, San Diego, had been abandoned
as a terminal for the flight and that henceforth the Imperial Valley airport near El Centro and the Van Nuys airport would be the end points.

One refueling ship will be stationed at each field and the Question Mark will operate above Van Nuys except when weather conditions force it to the Imperial Valley. Rockwell field was abandoned because of poor visibility, it was said.

A message dropped by Maj. Spatz
this morning said that the motors were functioning perfectly but that the Question Mark was bothered considerably by the fog and bumpy air.

The difficulties, he said, were "unpleasant rather than having any real effect" on the flight.

The Question Mark took on 250
gallons of gasoline and breakfast from a supply ship directly above the Imperial Valley airport shortly before 7 A. M.

The contact was the sixteenth
made for refueling purposes since the start of the flight.

Maj. Spatz, flight commander, signaled that all was well and with his crew fell to a hearty breakfast of ham and eggs, coffee and toast.

A pursuit blackboard plane went up chalked with the words, "Congratulations from the gang."

Winter in Fatal Grip On European Continent With Gales, Snow Storms, Freezing Weather

HITS FRANCE, ITALY AND THE MEDITERRANEAN

SECOND DAY'S ONSLAUGHT OF RAGING STORMS IS WEATHERED

DEATH LIST TOLL IS NOW SWELL-ED TO OVER THIRTY VICTIMS

Paris, Jan. 4. — (UP) — A death
list of more than 30 was the toll of winter's first grip on the continent
as gales, snow storms, and freezing weather prevailed and France, Italy and the Mediterranean suffered a second day's onslaught today.

Five deaths occurred in France yesterday. Snow continued to fall in many sections.

Reports from Fecamp, on the channel coast of France, said that the French trawler Pacificque was lost with 38 men on board. All hope was abandoned of picking up the crew. The trawler is a sailing vessel without wireless equipment.

Efforts to refloat the British steamer Sultan, stranded off Quistreham, France, were unsuccessful.

A severe tempest was reported raging in Limoges, department of Haute, Vienne, where a dozen persons were injured, several fatally.

Light snow fell in Paris and five persons were taken to the hospital suffering from the cold.

Marseilles was blanketed under five inches of snow.

The Rivera registered temperatures close to the freezing mark, as did Antibes and Peignin.

A report from Madrid said the steamship Malakoff foundered off Mahon, Minorca Island, and that 27
of the vessel's crew were lost.

Italy was still swept by severe storm and southern rivers were overflowing their banks in many places and the Tiber was showing a steady rise in Rome.

Vessels along the French, Spanish
and Italian coasts of the Mediterranean were driven to refuge harbors and the British steamer Sultan went up on the rocks off Quistreham, France.

Paris, Jan. 4. — Winter storms and freezing temperatures were spreading death and damage throughout France, Italy and in the Mediterranean today.

The death toll was increasing rapidly. It was feared more than 70 persons might have met death in the regions affected by the gales and blizzards that continued to spread destruction after more than 24 hours of unabated force.

Shipping suffered severely along the French channel and Mediterranean coasts and communications
and transportation were hard hit.

PHRASE 'UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF INTOXICATING LIQUOR'

St. Paul, Jan. 4. — (UP) — The phrase
"under the influence of intoxicating liquor" may not be clear to a former state representative, but it is clear to the state supreme court, that judicial body indicated in a decision today.

Dr. Alexander Graham, Duluth,
former state representative, arrested and found guilty in St. Louis county of driving an automobile while drunk, maintained that the words
"under the influence of intoxicating liquor" were not clear, and that the law wherein they appear is not constitutional.

The high court ruled that the law
is clear and upheld the conviction of Dr. Graham.

VIRULENT CHOLERA EPIDEMIC IS RAGING IN INDIA PROVINCE

Bombay, Jan. 4. — (UP) — A virulent cholera epidemic is raging in Travancore state, and 562 deaths occurred during the last week in December, it was learned today.

In many families, all the adult members were stricken, leaving the children destitute.

During the past four months,
7,880 have died from the disease
among 14,000 who were stricken.

UTAH SWINGS EASILY UP THE EAST COAST

HAS PROSPECTS OF REACHING
HAMPTON ROADS
SUNDAY 8 A. M.

IDEAL WEATHER MET SINCE
SINCE CROSSING TROPIC
OF CAPRICORN

Aboard the U. S. S. Utah, En Route to Hampton Roads, Jan. 4. — (UP) — The Utah was swinging easily up the east coast of the United States today
with prospects of reaching Hampton Roads by 8 A. M. Sunday with President-elect Herbert Hoover and his party.

Ideal weather has been encountered since crossing the tropic of Capricorn and Mr. and Mrs. Hoover have been taking advantage of the warm sun for their last few days of rest before reaching Washington.

The president-elect will go directly to Washington from Hampton Roads
to begin a series of political conferences. Mrs. Hoover will accompany him there, but Allan Hoover, their son, will return to his studies in California.

The remainder of their party will scatter to their respective homes,
according to present plans.

MOTHER SEEKS TO SAVE SON FROM NOOSE

NORTHCOTT'S ATTORNEYS DE-MAND SHE APPEAR AS WITNESS

HAD BEEN SENTENCED AND IS NOW CONFINED IN SAN QUENTIN PRISON

Riverside, Cal., Jan. 4. — (UP) —
The unbounded desire of a mother to save her son at any cost to herself appeared today to be Gordon Stewart Northcott's chief hope to escape the noose in his trial for the murder of three southern California youths.

Just before selection of a jury was resumed today Northcott's attorneys announced that they would continue their demands that Mrs.
Louisa Northcott be brought here
from San Quentin prison.

Through Mrs. Northcott they hope to establish an "alibi defense" —
that her son was not on the farm
when any of the slayings were committed.

She has insisted that "Gordon was not there." The defense counts heavily on such a statement made from the witness stand.

When Mrs. Northcott was sentenced to life imprisonment for the slay-ing of the boy believed to have been Walter Collins, but said by her to have been an eastern boy, she reiterated that Gordon was not on the farm that night.

So anxious was Mrs. Northcott to save her son she wanted to admit all four slayings, Sheriff Clem Sweeters said.

It appeared today that Northcott might repudiate all confessions attributed to him, and charge that they were obtained by "third degree"
methods.

FARMERS AND STOCKMEN FORM PANTHER HUNT

Independence, N. D., Jan. 4. —
(UP) — Farmers and stockmen near here have decided to organize a panther hunt in the Little Missouri river valley where one of the animals has been reported seen. The animal is said to be full grown and depredations on cattle and sheep are feared. Old residents of North Dakota say that a panther never before has been reported in the state.

ANOTHER DRAMA OF THE NORTH IS VEILED IN MYSTERY

FLYER SETS OUT FOR FORT VER-
MILLION, CANADA, WITH DIPHTHERIA SERUM

AIRPLANE JOURNEY FROM ED-MONTON TO FORT NEVER BE-FORE TRIED IN WINTER

Peace River, Alta., Jan. 4. — (UP) — Another drama of the north was veiled in mystery today after Capt. W. O. May, Edmonton flyer, had taken off from here carrying a
"mercy cargo" of diphtheria serum
for Fort Vermillion, reported stricken
by an epidemic of the disease.

Captain May should have reached Fort Vermillion, 250 miles northeast of here, last night with the 500,000
units of serum but lack of facilities
made it impossible to communicate with Fort Vermillion.

It may be several days before word comes that Captain May has succeeded or failed on his airplane mercy mission. If Captain May was forced down in the barren country he would have to walk to one of the nearest trading posts, which are scattered and far apart.

The airplane journey from Edmonton to Fort Vermillion never has been attempted before in winter.
The temperature ranged from 10 to 30 degrees below zero in the territory over which Captain May had to fly.

Fort Vermillion is within 125 miles of the Arctic circle and the only means of communication with the outside is by dog sled or airplane.

Funeral Rites for One Who Inspired Song 'Mother Machree'

Cleveland, Jan. 4. — (UP) — Funeral services will be held here tomorrow
for a mother who inspired the song about which an entire nation has sung—"Mother Machree."

Mrs. Nannie Ball, 72, who died yesterday at Beechurst, Long Island, and who is credited with being the mother immortalized in that song, will be laid to rest in a grave beside that of her son Ernest R. Ball, composer of the classic.

Just a year before Ernest Ball, native Cleveland, died, in May of 1927, his mother sat in a box in a down-town theatre here and heard her son sing the song to her from across the footlights.

MILLIONS OF FLU GERMS IN TUBES STOLEN IN LONDON

London, Jan. 4. — (UP) — A number of glass tubes containing millions of influenza germs were stolen by an unknown person from a doctor's automobile today.

Authorities feared the tubes
might be broken unwittingly,
causing an influenza epidemic.

The theft occurred while the doctor's automobile was parked on Brook street in the fashionable west end district.

The culture tubes were left unguarded in the automobile of Dr.
M. R. Brady by Dr. W. M. Croft-
on, a bacteriologist.

Dr. Brady said:
"If the tubes are broken there is undoubtedly danger of their contents causing an influenza epidemic."

"The cold probably would kill the germs if they were exposed to the air, but in warm hands or indoors in warm atmosphere they would survive and multiply."

REPORTS STATE HEAVY TOLL OF LIFE TAKEN

72 DEATHS, INCLUDING 40 FROM
3 JAPANESE VILLAGES,
INDICATED

EARTHQUAKE OF MODERATE IN-TENSITY ADDS TO SUF-FERING

Honolulu, Jan. 4. — (UP) — Heavy gales which swept Japan and the western Pacific have taken a heavy toll of life, reports indicated today.
Seventy-two deaths, including 40 reported from three villages in the prefecture of Niigata, have been reported in Tokyo.

An earthquake of moderate intensity accompanied by storms, while frigid temperatures, ranging as low as 20 degrees below zero in Tokyo, added to the suffering and terror of
the stricken provinces.

High winds were said to have demolished 270 dwellings in the Nigata towns, where the storms apparently struck hardest. Railroad traffic was paralyzed and all wires were down, it was reported.

Only four members of the crew of 36 seamen aboard the Tokotomi
Maru, a vessel of 2,338 tons, saved themselves when the steamer foundered in a gale off Kose Cape between Nagasaki and Shanghai.

Earth shocks wreaked havoc on Kumamoto Island, and the inhabitants were said to be panic stricken
although no deaths were reported.
Property damage was heavy, a Tokyo
report said.

Tokyo, Jan. 4. — Seven persons were killed and 26 injured by a blizzard
which swept northwestern Japan
yesterday, an official announcement said today.

Five also were missing in Ishikawa prefecture, the announcement said. Earlier unofficial reports said 72 had been killed.

Twenty-four persons who were aboard the steamer Toyotomi Maru which went aground off Nagasaki still were missing today, the official announcement said.

Ten feet of snow, the heaviest in history, covered the city of Na-gano. Local traffic was at a standstill.

NEGRO FORTUNE TELLER TOLD RETURN OF GIRL

DORIS TURNER, 16 YEAR OLD
SCHOOL GIRL, ABDUCTED
IN ATLANTA

"OLD MAN WITH A CANE" LATER
LOST HIS HUMP
AND LIMP

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 4. — (UP) — Doris Turner, 16-year-old school girl athlete, was none the worse today for an adventure as the kidnapped victim of "an old man with a cane," while a negro fortune teller, Tobie Grant, patted her hands and expected an increase in business.

Just as Tobie Grant told the girl's distressed mother yesterday, Doris returned unharmed last night, 36 hours after she disappeared while on the way to school.

According to the girl, Wednesday morning she was offered a ride to school by "the old man with a cane."
He chloroformed her in the car, and the next she knew was awakening on a cot in a windowless shack.

"The old man with the cane had lost his hump and limp and walked about the room like a young man,"
the girl told her parents. In another room she said she could hear her captor and another man "talk whether they would kill me or not."

Early yesterday evening, according to the girl's story, the two men
bundled her into a car after blind-folding her, and pushed her out in a woods from where she walked home.

UTAH SWINGS EASILY UP THE EAST COAST

HAS PROSPECTS OF REACHING
HAMPTON ROADS
SUNDAY 8 A. M.

IDEAL WEATHER MET SINCE
OF CAPRICORN

Aboard the U. S. S. Utah, En Route to Hampton Roads, Jan. 4.—(UP)—The Utah was swinging easily up the east coast of the United States today with prospects of reaching Hampton Roads by 8 A. M. Sunday with President-elect Herbert Hoover and his party.

Ideal weather has been encountered since crossing the tropic of Capricorn and Mr. and Mrs. Hoover have been taking advantage of the warm sun for their last few days of rest before reaching Washington.

The president-elect will go directly to Washington from Hampton Roads to begin a series of political conferences. Mrs. Hoover will accompany him there, but Allan Hoover, their son, will return to his studies in California.

The remainder of their party will scatter to their respective homes, according to present plans.

MOTHER SEEKS TO SAVE SON FROM NOOSE

NORTHCOTT'S ATTORNEYS DE-MAND SHE APPEAR AS WITNESS

HAD BEEN SENTENCED AND IS NOW CONFINED IN SAN
QUENTIN PRISON

Riverside, Cal., Jan. 4.—(UP)—The unbounded desire of a mother to save her son at any cost to herself appeared today to be Gordon Stewart Northcott's chief hope to escape the noose in his trial for the murder of three southern California youths.

Just before selection of a jury was resumed today Northcott's attorneys announced that they would continue their demands that Mrs. Louisa Northcott be brought here from San Quentin prison.

Through Mrs. Northcott they hope to establish an "alibi defense"—that her son was not on the farm when any of the slayings were committed.

She has insisted that "Gordon was not there." The defense counts heavily on such a statement made from the witness stand.

When Mrs. Northcott was sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of the boy believed to have been Walter Collins, but said by her to have been an eastern boy, she reiterated that Gordon was not on the farm that night.

So anxious was Mrs. Northcott to save her son she wanted to admit all four slayings, Sheriff Clem Sweeters said.

It appeared today that Northcott might repudiate all confessions attributed to him, and charge that they were obtained by "third degree" methods.

FARMERS AND STOCKMEN FORM PANTHER HUNT

Independence, N. D., Jan. 4.—(UP)—Farmers and stockmen near here have decided to organize a panther hunt in the Little Missouri river valley where one of the animals has been reported seen. The animal is said to be full grown and depredations on cattle and sheep are feared. Old residents of North Dakota say that a panther never before has been reported in the state.

ANOTHER DRAMA OF THE NORTH IS VEILED IN MYSTERY

FLYER SETS OUT FOR FORT VER-
MILLION, CANADA, WITH DIPHTHERIA SERUM

AIRPLANE JOURNEY FROM ED-MONTON TO FORT NEVER BE-FORE TRIED IN WINTER

Peace River, Alta., Jan. 4.—(UP)—Another drama of the north was veiled in mystery today after Capt. W. O. May, Edmonton flyer, had taken off from here carrying a "mercy cargo" of diphtheria serum for Fort Vermillion, reported stricken by an epidemic of the disease.

Captain May should have reached Fort Vermillion, 250 miles northeast of here, last night with the 500,000 units of serum but lack of facilities made it impossible to communicate with Fort Vermillion.

It may be several days before word comes that Captain May has succeeded or failed on his airplane mercy mission. If Captain May was forced down in the barren country he would have to walk to one of the nearest trading posts, which are scattered far and apart.

The airplane journey from Edmonton to Fort Vermillion never has been attempted before in winter. The temperature ranged from 10 to 30 degrees below zero in the territory over which Captain May had to fly.

Fort Vermillion is within 125 miles of the Arctic circle and the only means of communication with the outside is by dog sled or airplane.

Funeral Rites for One Who Inspired Song 'Mother Machree'

Cleveland, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for a mother who inspired the song about which an entire nation has sung—"Mother Machree."

Mrs. Nannie Ball, 72, who died yesterday at Beechurst, Long Island, and who is credited with being the mother immortalized in that song, will be laid to rest in a grave beside that of her son Ernest R. Ball, composer of the classic.

Just a year before Ernest Ball, native Cleveland, died, in May of 1927, his mother sat in a box in a downtown theatre here and heard her son sing the song to her from across the footlights.

MILLIONS OF FLU GERMS IN TUBES STOLEN IN LONDON

London, Jan. 4.—(UP)—A number of glass tubes containing millions of influenza germs were stolen by an unknown person from a doctor's automobile today.

Authorities feared the tubes might be broken unwittingly, causing an influenza epidemic.

The theft occurred while the doctor's automobile was parked on Brook street in the fashionable west end district.

The culture tubes were left unguarded in the automobile of Dr. M. R. Brady by Dr. W. M. Crofton, a bacteriologist.

Dr. Brady said:
"If the tubes are broken there is undoubtedly danger of their contents causing an influenza epidemic."

"The cold probably would kill the germs if they were exposed to the air, but in warm hands or indoors in warm atmosphere they would survive and multiply."

REPORTS STATE HEAVY TOLL OF LIFE TAKEN

72 DEATHS, INCLUDING 40 FROM
3 JAPANESE VILLAGES,
INDICATED

EARTHQUAKE OF MODERATE IN-TENSITY ADDS TO SUFFERING

Honolulu, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Heavy gales which swept Japan and the western Pacific have taken a heavy toll of life, reports indicated today. Seventy-two deaths, including 40 reported from three villages in the prefecture of Niigata, have been reported in Tokyo.

An earthquake of moderate intensity accompanied by storms, while frigid temperatures, ranging as low as 20 degrees below zero in Tokyo, added to the suffering and terror of the stricken provinces.

High winds were said to have demolished 270 dwellings in the Niigata towns, where the storms apparently struck hardest. Railroad traffic was paralyzed and all wires were down, it was reported.

Only four members of the crew of 36 seamen aboard the Tokotomi Maru, a vessel of 2,338 tons, saved themselves when the steamer foundered in a gale off Kose Cape between Nagasaki and Shanghai.

Earth shocks wreaked havoc on Kumanoto Island, and the inhabitants were said to be panic stricken although no deaths were reported. Property damage was heavy, a Tokyo report said.

Tokyo, Jan. 4.—Seven persons were killed and 26 injured by a blizzard which swept northwestern Japan yesterday, an official announcement said today.

Five also were missing in Ishikawa prefecture, the announcement said. Earlier unofficial reports said 72 had been killed.

Twenty-four persons who were aboard the steamer Toyotomi Maru which went aground off Nagasaki still were missing today, the official announcement said.

Ten feet of snow, the heaviest in history, covered the city of Haboro. Local traffic was at a standstill.

NEGRO FORTUNE TELLER TOLD RETURN OF GIRL

DORIS TURNER, 16 YEAR OLD
SCHOOL GIRL, ABDUCTED
IN ATLANTA

"OLD MAN WITH A CANE" LATER
LOST HIS HUMP
AND LIMP

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 4.—(UP)—Doris Turner, 16-year-old school girl athlete, was none the worse today for an adventure as the kidnapped victim of "an old man with a cane," while a negro fortune teller, Tobie Grant, patted her hands and expected an increase in business.

Just as Tobie Grant told the girl's distressed mother yesterday, Doris returned unharmed last night, 36 hours after she disappeared while on the way to school.

According to the girl, Wednesday morning she was offered a ride to school by "the old man with a cane." He chloroformed her in the car, and the next she knew was awakening in a cot in a windowless shack.

"The old man with the cane had lost his hump and limp and walked about the room like a young man," the girl told her parents. In another room she said she could hear her captor and another man "talk whether they would kill me or not."

Early yesterday evening, according to the girl's story, the two men bundled her into a car after blindfolding her, and pushed her out in a woods from where she walked home.

Rhodes-Peterson

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Peterson, 513 North Fourth street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their daughter Miss Shirley W. Peterson became the bride of Earle H. Rhodes, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The words uniting the happy couple were pronounced by Rev. F. A. Kufus, pastor of the First Methodist church, before a bower of evergreen trees trimmed with silver tinsel. Tall white candles were used for lighting, and baskets of pink roses and carnations tied with bows of tulle completed the decorations. The ring ceremony was used.

The bride party entered the room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, with Miss Lorraine Morrison at the piano. The bride was beautifully dressed in a powder blue georgette gown, with silver hose and slippers. The only jewelry she wore was a gold pin, an heirloom of the Nubbe family, and carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses and foliage.

The bridesmaid, Miss Augusta Welsh, wore a tan georgette dress and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and white sweet peas. Miss Frances Peterson, sister of bride, was maid of honor and wore a coral pink georgette dress, carrying an arm bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas. Little Islay Marie Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Anderson, prettily dressed in apricot, with half hose to match, carried the ring in a large rose. Harry Lyndon of this city and John Walton of Carlton, cousin of the bride, attended the groom.

McGILL, ST. PAUL ATTORNEY, IN MILITANT MOOD

TAKEN BY FEDERAL AGENTS IN "HIP FLASK" RAID ON CAFE

PREPARES TO TAKE HIS CASE TO RAMSEY COUNTY GRAND JURY

St. Paul, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Allan M. McGill, St. Paul attorney, arrested and reportedly beaten by federal agents during a "hip flask" raid on a cafe here, was prepared today to carry his fight to the Ramsey county grand jury following his appeal to Representative Melvin Maas at Washington against "high handed enforcement methods."

At the session of the grand jury, to be organized Monday, McGill said he would demand an investigation of the "personal raid" in which he was beaten by agents when he resisted search.

M. L. Harney, deputy northwest prohibition administrator, said today that he did not anticipate unfavorable action by the grand jury and it was unlikely that McGill could receive an indictment against federal agents.

Meanwhile the investigation of the affair asked of Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, by Representative Maas, has been started. S. B. Qvale, northwest administrator said he believed Maas had been misinformed about the raid or he never would have asked Lowman to start an investigation nor would he have asked that the federal agents here apologize to McGill.

Qvale declared emphatically that he would offer no apologies to anyone for enforcement of the prohibition laws.

3 YOUTHFUL ADVENTURERS RECUPERATING

Fort Collins, Colo., Jan. 4.—(UP)—Suffering from frost bites and the privations encountered as they lay huddled in a shelter hut on the storm-swept side of Longs Peak, three youthful adventurers were safe at home today.

The trio, Lynn Richie and Jess Fultz of Fort Collins, juniors at Colorado Agricultural college, and Leo Sisler of Allens Park, left Sunday on a trip to the summit of the peak, one of the highest in the Colorado Rockies. They reached the top Tuesday, but when they started the descent encountered a raging blizzard which drove them to the shelter cabin, where they stayed until yesterday morning.

A rescue party left Estes Park Wednesday night to search for them in the snow fields above Timberline. They encountered the youths as they were making their way down the summit trail yesterday.

McGILL, ST. PAUL ATTORNEY, IN MILITANT MOOD

TAKEN BY FEDERAL AGENTS IN "HIP FLASK" RAID ON CAFE

PREPARES TO TAKE HIS CASE TO RAMSEY COUNTY GRAND JURY

St. Paul, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Allan M. McGill, St. Paul attorney, arrested and reportedly beaten by federal agents during a "hip flask" raid on a cafe here, was prepared today to carry his fight to the Ramsey county grand jury following his appeal to Representative Melvin Maas at Washington against "high handed enforcement methods."

At the session of the grand jury, to be organized Monday, McGill said he would demand an investigation of the "personal raid" in which he was beaten by agents when he resisted search.

M. L. Harney, deputy northwest prohibition administrator, said today that he did not anticipate unfavorable action by the grand jury and it was unlikely that McGill could receive an indictment against federal agents.

Meanwhile the investigation of the affair asked of Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, by Representative Maas, has been started. S. B. Qvale, northwest administrator said he believed Maas had been misinformed about the raid or he never would have asked Lowman to start an investigation nor would he have asked that the federal agents here apologize to McGill.

Qvale declared emphatically that he would offer no apologies to anyone for enforcement of the prohibition laws.

3 YOUTHFUL ADVENTURERS RECUPERATING

Fort Collins, Colo., Jan. 4.—(UP)—Suffering from frost bites and the privations encountered as they lay huddled in a shelter hut on the storm-swept side of Longs Peak, three youthful adventurers were safe at home today.

The trio, Lynn Richie and Jess Fultz of Fort Collins, juniors at Colorado Agricultural college, and Leo Sisler of Allens Park, left Sunday on a trip to the summit of the peak, one of the highest in the Colorado Rockies. They reached the top Tuesday, but when they started the descent encountered a raging blizzard which drove them to the shelter cabin, where they stayed until yesterday morning.

A rescue party left Estes Park Wednesday night to search for them in the snow fields above Timberline. They encountered the youths as they were making their way down the summit trail yesterday.

ROAD BONDS WOULD NOT INCREASE TAXES

DUE to the discussion of the proposed highway bond issue, some of the provisions of the State Constitution relative to bond issues may be interesting to readers of The Brainerd Dispatch. A Highway bulletin this week gives us a synopsis of the sections governing bonds.

Article XVI of the constitution, which is the trunk highway amendment adopted in 1920, creates a fund to be known as the "trunk highway sinking fund." It provides that all proceeds of any tax imposed on motor vehicles shall go into this fund, to be used to pay the principal and interest of any bonds which may be issued under the trunk highway amendment. The constitution then provides that any money in excess of such requirements shall be transferred to a fund to be known as the trunk highway fund, to be used for the improvement and maintenance of the trunk highways.

This means that if any bonds are issued, a sum will have to be set aside each year sufficient to pay the interest and retire the bonds when due, before any money can be used for other purposes. If $20,000,000 bonds were issued, due in 15 years, it would be necessary to put $960,400 into the sinking fund and pay $800,000 interest each year, assuming that the state would pay 4 per cent on the bonds and get 4 per cent on the sinking fund accumulations. In practice, however, the state usually gets more interest on what it loans out than it pays on what it borrows.

At any rate the sinking fund and interest allotments each year would be well under $1,800,000, or less than one-fifth of the motor vehicle receipts. The saving in maintenance alone would amount to more than the interest. It is quite clear that there would never be the slightest danger that there would be any need to use the provision of the constitution which permits a general tax levy in case funds are needed to pay the bonds. That provision, however, serves a useful purpose. By placing the credit of the state behind the bonds, it gives the state the lowest possible interest rate.

The constitution limits the amount of bonds which may be issued in one year to $10,000,000. This is one reason why $20,000,000 is named as the amount recommended for two years. Another reason is that the engineering staff of the highway department is organized so it can easily supervise the additional work if $10,000,000 a year were added to the construction program, but there might be difficulty in expanding the organization so as to give proper supervision to a much larger program. Still another reason is that new grades must be given time to settle before paving is built. If much more than $20,000,000 were to be spent for paving in the next two years, it would be necessary to rush grading work to shorten the waiting period between grading and paving. The waiting period is essential for good paving where there are heavy cuts and fills.

FARMERS' AND HOMEMAKERS' WEEK

THE six day program of the fifteenth annual Farmers' and Homemakers' week, January 14 to 19, is expected to attract 2,000 farmers and housewives to the agricultural college campus at St. Paul to attend classes and lectures covering a large and varied choice of subjects.

All visitors to the short course will be permitted to attend the classes in which they are interested, each major division of the agricultural college offering a complete course.

Short course visitors will attend the classes free of fees and entrance requirements, and the railroads operating within the state have announced rates of a fare and one-half for the round trip.

Numerous visiting speakers in addition to the scores of university faculty members will assist in presenting the instruction. Among the prominent visiting speakers are Eugene Davenport, Woodland, Mich., emeritus dean of the college of agriculture at the University of Illinois, and A. F. Woods, former dean of agriculture at the University of Minnesota, and now in charge of scientific research with the United States department of agriculture in Washington.

Three noon meetings and five evening entertainments are scheduled during the week, which will be attended by all short course groups. Most of the visiting speakers will appear at these meetings.

Several state-wide farm organizations will hold their annual business meetings in conjunction with the Farmers' and Homemakers' week. The organizations include the Minnesota Farm Bureau, Minnesota Livestock Breeders' association, and the Minnesota Crop Improvement association.

The Master Farmers of 1928 will be introduced to the gathering by Dan Wallace, managing editor of the Farmer, agricultural publication, St. Paul.

RIVER TRAFFIC DEVELOPMENT

DEVELOPMENT of river navigation will necessitate increased rail freight rates, Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railway, indicated in an address he delivered at Chicago at the annual meeting of the Midwest Shippers Advisory Board.

The diversion of heavy bulk traffic to barge lines would almost surely bring about higher rail rates. Passenger traffic has been hit by bus lines. And now the freight business will suffer attrition if the river traffic grows.

HOPE FOR REVENGE OVER BADGERS FADES

EARLY BONDY, GUARD, IS LOST TO MINNESOTA

FIRST STRING MAN SUFFERS INJURY OF BADLY BRUISED FOOT

PROBABLY REPLACED BY TANNER, NORGARD OR HOEFER

Minneapolis, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Minnesota's hopes for a revenge victory over Wisconsin in the opening game of the Big Ten conference basketball season here tomorrow night slumped today with the announcement that Early Bondy, first string guard, will be lost to the Gopher squad.

Bondy was to be kept out of practice tonight because of a badly bruised foot and will not be used against the Badgers, Coach Dave MacMillan announced. He probably will be replaced as Captain George Otterness' running mate by Tanner, Norgard or Hoefler.

Ray Nelson will be started at center against Wisconsin and Hoyde and Englebritton at the guards will complete the line-up with Otterness and probably Norgard at forwards.

Scouts who saw Wisconsin defeat Carleton college earlier in the week have reported the Badgers' strongest and probable starting combination as Tenhopen, center; Foster and Miller, forwards; and Ellerman and Chmielowski, guards.

The Gophers have pointed all their forces toward the Wisconsin tilt, hoping to gain revenge for the 35 to 26 and 38 to 18 drubbings received at the hands of the Badgers last season.

Followers of the Gopher quintet have slight hopes for a victory over Wisconsin, rated as one of the season's strongest western conference teams.

AGGIES PUCK MEN PASS THROUGH CITY

The North Dakota Aggies hockey team passed through the city at noon today enroute for the Twin Cities, where they open their road games with Ft. Snelling Sunday.

Chicago Business Men Underwriting Arlington Park Track

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(U.P.)—Despite being warned the venture will pay no profits, a group of Chicago business men have underwritten a $2,000,000 fund, to be used to obtain control of the Arlington Park race track. SAMMY TERRIN, 'FIGHTING TAILOR,' FACES SENTENCE

St. Paul, Jan. 4.—(U.P.)—Sam Terrin, known to the boxing public as Sammy Terrin, "fighting tailor," must serve the 10-year sentence imposed upon him on a first degree grand larceny conviction, the state supreme court ruled today.

Terrin was indicted on Feb. 16, 1927, with Mark G. Wynn, charged with the forgery of a $700 note. The boxer appealed to the high court for a new trial on technical grounds which appeal was today denied.

TWO APPEAR AS PRELIMINARY BOXERS ON CARD

MADE CLOSE TO HALF MILLION IN RING; NOW LOST IT ALL

New York, Jan. 4.—A gallant little fighter who has contributed more than his share to American ring history boxes once more tonight in Madison Square Garden, but not as one of the principals in the main event.

After nearly 18 years in the ring, Johnny Dundee appears at last as a preliminary boxer, one whose opponents now are carefully selected for him by the New York state athletic commission.

Dundee meets Charley Phil Rosenberg, another fallen champion, in one of the ten-round bouts which precede the feature match between Max Schmeling of Germany and Joe Sekyra of Ohio, a pair of second rate heavyweights. Rosenberg himself has seen better days, having ruled the bantamweight division back in 1925.

The story of Dundee is one of the real tragedies of the prize ring.

Johnny made between $400,000 and $500,000 in the ring, and should be enjoying his fairly ripe old age at the moment. Instead he is boxing prelims because he needs the money. An extravagant family cost Dundee the profits of a long and indisputably honorable fist career.

Dundee once was featherweight champion, but he is best remembered for his bouts with Benny Leonard and other lightweights, to fight whom he gave away many a pound.

Two ex-champions fighting in a preliminary bout for a few hundred dollars apiece, and the principals in the main bout rating thousands.

Max Schmeling is a most promising young German heavyweight, who resembles Jack Dempsey and hits a creditable straight right.

Joe Sekyra is a rugged young Bohemian who has no future except that which awaits those "trial horses" of the ring—an added brain.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 4.—A cleanly severed foot and leg, apparently of a 14-year-old boy, discovered by a dog on the lonely Lake Gaiway road, near the Broadalbin-Saratoga highway, presented a possible murder mystery to police and state troopers. Police tended to the theory that the boy had been kidnapped, taken by automobile to some point nearby and murdered.

TELEPHONE VOICE URGED PAYMENT OF $5,000 EACH

VICE PRESIDENT ADAMS OF BOSTON BRAVES MAKES STATEMENT

MONEY TO BE PAID 13 COUNCIL MEN TO EXPEDITE ACTION ON SUNDAY BASEBALL MEASURE

Boston, Jan. 4.—(U.P.)—A telephone voice, which warned him that the Sunday sports order would remain on the table until 13 city councilmen were paid $5,000 each, closely resembled that of Councilman Robert G. Wilson, Jr., according to Vice President Charles F. Adams of the Boston Braves.

Wilson was one of 13 councilmen previously named by President Emil Fuchs of the Braves as those who had demanded a $65,000 bribe to insure fast action on the Sunday baseball measure.

More sensational testimony in the Boston finance commission's investigation of the case was expected this afternoon, when the hearing was to be resumed with Secretary Ed Cunningham of the Braves on the witness stand.

A Cyclone From the Windy City

© 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

By QUIN HALL.
NOT so long ago the lightweight pugilistic horizon was all shadowed up with the arrival of Jimmy McLarnin, the baby faced glove pusher from the Pacific Coast. In various and divers ways Jimmy proved to be the bank busting racket that he was the fair haired boy of the lightweight ranks. It is true that he didn't manage to lift the crown from the sleek head of Sammy Mandell, the Rockford Shiek, but he upset all of the boys who had been snarling in the wake of the king, and was as popular as a president-elect on a good will tour.

That was the picture up until the last flutter of November. On November 30, in Detroit, the knock-out career of the Coast wallop was ended when Ray Miller, of Chicago, scored a technical knock-out over the McLarnin lad in the seventh round of their scheduled ten round fust.

The blond-haired cyclone from the Windy City showed that he was McLarnin's master even as early as the first round of that scrap, and had him bleeding from a gash under the right eye before the first rest period. Miller kept up his murderous assault in the next two frames, but in the fourth and fifth McLarnin made a bid and had Ray retreating. But it couldn't last. Miller took up the fight again in the sixth, and from there until the finish Jimmy was nothing but a punching bag for the sharpshooter from Chicago. When the starting bell for the eighth round sounded, McLarnin failed to answer, and a soggy towel tossed into the ring from Jimmy's corner gave Miller his victory and another 1 to 5 shot in the betting had made good.

Miller has always been known as a destructive puncher but he has also had the reputation of being an in-and-outer. He would be of championship caliber in one start and a total wash-out the next time out. He's one of those turn-around southpaws whose main sock is a vicious left hook. Left handed in everything else he boxes from a right-handed stance, but executes most of his damage with his left paw, which he holds cocked at a peculiar angle in front of him. This allows him to throw his deadly left hook without drawing back his arm or telegraphing his punch.

The blond Chicagoan is dead

sure he can take the title from Mandell. He bases his assumption on an occurrence which took place in a gym some time ago. At the time Miller was a featherweight and Sammy was already an experienced lightweight. They boxed a couple of rounds and during the mixing Ray knocked the Rockford lad down. Since then Mandell has never been friendly with Miller, but Ray feels that he'll repeat his stunt before the cash customers when he gets his shot at the tiara.

Miller's natural fighting weight is 132, so he has no difficulty in making weight. In his set-to with McLarnin he gave away over five pounds, as Jimmy scaled at 137½, which may or may not be an indication that McLarnin will never fight as a lightweight again.

Despite the larruping he received McLarnin may yet come back and surprise the customers. He packs a powerful wallop and the only thing that kept him from being champion was the fact that he couldn't hit Mandell.

But Miller seems to have the inside call right now and when Ray's left maulie connects the recipient goes down, champion or no champion. What a wallop he must have.

HOPE FOR REVENGE OVER BADGERS FADES

EARLY BONDY, GUARD, IS LOST TO MINNESOTA

FIRST STRING MAN SUFFERS INJURY OF BADLY BRUISED FOOT

PROBABLY REPLACED BY TANNER, NORGARD OR HOEFLE

Minneapolis, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Minnesota's hopes for a revenge victory over Wisconsin in the opening game of the Big Ten conference basketball season here tomorrow night slumped today with the announcement that Early Bondy, first string guard, will be lost to the Gopher squad.

Bondy was to be kept out of practice tonight because of a badly bruised foot and will not be used against the Badgers, Coach Dave MacMillan announced. He probably will be replaced as Captain George Ottensner's running mate by Tanner, Norgard or Hoefler.

Ray Nelson will be started at center against Wisconsin and Hoyde and Englebritson at the guards will complete the line-up with Ottensner and probably Norgard at forwards.

Scouts who saw Wisconsin defeat Carleton college earlier in the week have reported the Badgers' strongest and probable starting combination as Tenhopen, center; Foster and Miller, forwards; and Ellerman and Chmielewski, guards.

The Gophers have pointed all their forces toward the Wisconsin tilt, hoping to gain revenge for the 35 to 26 and 38 to 18 drubbings received at the hands of the Badgers last season.

Followers of the Gopher quintet have slight hopes for a victory over Wisconsin, rated as one of the season's strongest western conference teams.

New York, Jan. 4.—(UP)—The New York Yankee and Giants 1929 contracts were in the mail today and officials of both teams have merely to sit back and await for them to return, with or without signatures.

The majority of the contracts were addressed to members of the Giant squad for most of Col. Ruppert's world's champions are on long term contracts which have at least another year to run.

Babe Ruth, star slugger of the Yankee camp, began yesterday on the annual campaign against his waist line. He has gone into vigorous training and expects to cut 15 pounds off before the opening game of the season.

Chicago Business Men Underwriting Arlington Park Track

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Despite being warned the venture will pay no profits, a group of Chicago business men have underwritten a $2,000,000 fund, to be used to obtain control of the Arlington Park race track. The new plant will be operated on the lines of Belmont Park and Saratoga in the east, where the plant profits are re-invested in the sport.

SAMMY TERRIN, 'FIGHTING TAILOR,' FACES SENTENCE

St. Paul, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Sam Taran, known to the boxing public as Sammy Terrin, "fighting tailor," must serve the 10-year sentence imposed upon him on a first degree grand larceny conviction, the state supreme court ruled today.

Taran was indicted on Feb. 16, 1927, with Mark G. Wynn, charged with the forgery of a $700 note. The boxer appealed to the high court for a new trial on technical grounds which appeal was today denied.

MADE CLOSE TO HALF MILLION IN RING; NOW LOST IT ALL

New York, Jan. 4.—A gallant little fighter who has contributed more than his share to American ring history boxes once more tonight in Madison Square Garden, but not as one of the principals in the main event.

After nearly 18 years in the ring, Johnny Dundee appears at last as a preliminary boxer, one whose opponents now are carefully selected for him by the New York state athletic commission.

Dundee meets Charley Phil Rosenberg, another fallen champion, in near the Broadalbin-Saratoga highway, presented a possible murder prelude the feature match between Max Schmeling of Germany and Joe Sekyra of Ohio, a pair of second rate heavyweights. Rosenberg himself has seen better days, having ruled and murdered.

the bantamweight division back in 1925.

The story of Dundee is one of the real tragedies of the prize ring.

Johnny made between $400,000 and $500,000 in the ring, and should be enjoying his fairly ripe old age at the moment. Instead he is boxing prelims because he needs the money. An extravagant family cost Dundee the profits of a long and indisputably honorable fist career.

Dundee once was featherweight champion, but he is best remembered for his bouts with Benny Leonard and other lightweights, to fight whom he gave away many a pound.

Two ex-champions fighting in a preliminary bout for a few hundred dollars apiece, and the principals in the main bout rating thousands.

Max Schmeling is a most promising young German heavyweight, who resembles Jack Dempsey and hits a creditable straight right.

Joe Sekyra is a rugged young Bohemian who has no future except that which awaits those "trial horses" of the ring—an added brain.

VICE PRESIDENT ADAMS OF BOSTON BRAVES MAKES STATEMENT

MONEY TO BE PAID 13 COUNCIL MEN TO EXPEDITE ACTION ON SUNDAY BASEBALL MEASURE

Boston, Jan. 4.—(UP)—A telephone voice, which warned him that the Sunday sports order would remain on the table until 13 city councilmen were paid $5,000 each, closely resembled that of Councilman Robert G. Wilson, Jr., according to Vice President Charles F. Adams of the Boston Braves.

Wilson was one of 13 councilmen previously named by President Emil Fuchs of the Braves as those who had demanded a $65,000 bribe to insure fast action on the Sunday baseball measure.

More sensational testimony in the Boston finance commission's investigation of the case was expected this afternoon, when the hearing was to be resumed with Secretary Ed Cunningham of the Braves on the witness stand.

A Cyclone From the Windy City

© 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

By QUIN HALL.

NOT so long ago the lightweight pugilistic horizon was all shadowed up with the arrival of Jimmy McLarnin, the baby faced glove pusher from the Pacific Coast. In various and divers ways Jimmy proved to the bunk busting racket that he was the fair haired boy of the lightweight ranks. It is true that he didn't manage to lift the crown from the sleek head of Sammy Mandell, the Rockford Shiek, but he upset all of the boys who had been swarming in the wake of the king, and was as popular as a president-elect on a good will tour.

That was the picture up until the last flutter of November. On November 30, in Detroit, the knock-out career of the Coast wallop was ended when Ray Miller, of Chicago, scored a technical knock-out over the McLarnin lad in the seventh round of their scheduled ten round fust.

The blond-haired cyclone from the Windy City showed that he was McLarnin's master even as early as the first round of that scrap, and had him bleeding from a gash under the right eye before the first rest period. Miller kept up his murderous assault in the next two frames, but in the fourth and fifth McLarnin made a bid and had Ray retreating. But it couldn't last. Miller took up the fight again in the sixth, and from there until the finish Jimmy was nothing but a punching bag for the sharpshooter from Chicago. When the starting bell for the eighth round sounded, McLarnin failed to answer, and a soggy towel tossed into the ring from Jimmy's corner gave Miller his victory and another 1 to 5 shot in the betting had made good.

Miller has always been known as a destructive puncher but he has also had the reputation of being an in-and-out-er. He would be of championship caliber in one start and a total wash-out the next time out. He's one of those tamed-around southpaws whose main sock is a vicious left hook. Left handed in everything else he boxes from a right-handed stance, but executes most of his damage with his left paw, which he holds cocked at a peculiar angle in front of him. This allows him to throw his deadly left hook without drawing back his arm or telegraphing his punch.

CONSIDER ERECTION OF NEW Y. M. C. A. GYM

Tentative Plans for Construction of Addition to Building Are Outlined
ESTIMATED COST $25,000

Proposed Building Would be 115
Feet by 60 Feet With Walls
20 Feet High

Men with the interest of the BRAINERD Y. M. C. A. keenly at heart
were optimistic today concerning the future of the institution here.

The greatest improvement to the
building since its construction occupied
the attention of BRAINERD Y. M. C. A.
board members today as they
considered seriously the raising of $25,000 by public subscription for a
proposed new addition to house a modern gymnasium.

Northern Pacific railway officials
are at present considering BRAINERD's
request for the donation of land sufficient to erect the new gymnasium.
The land desired is directly to the rear of the present building on the northwest corner of Sixth and Front
streets.

Tentative plans outlined by George
E. Lowe, president of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. here call
for the erection of a brick building,
60 feet by 115 feet with walls 20 feet
in height, the building to be joined
to the present building with playing
floor space north and south.

The plans show the renovation of
the present gymnasium to locker and
shower rooms.

Board members feel that the gymnasium would tend to further increase the interest of the Y. M. C. A.
here and would accommodate conventions and large public gatherings.

The new gymnasium would be constructed on the order of an armory with the seating arrangement in
bleacher style.

HIGHWAYS ARE GENERALLY GOOD

With unusually favorable weather
conditions during the past week,
Minnesota highways are as near 100
per cent "good" as they have ever
been. The weekly condition report issued by the State Highway department today shows only a half dozen
"fair" stretches and one short "poor"
section. The gravel and dirt roads
are nearly all smooth, and all the routes are practically free from snow
and ice.

Some of the traffic is using the new grade on T. H. No. 1 between Geneva
and Albert Lea. This route is good in cold weather, but in thawing
weather traffic should continue to use
the detour.

Detailed reports of conditions on
the trunk roads in the BRAINERD Lake Region follow:

head—260 miles—Duluth, paved—

ANGEL CLAIMS LIFE OF MARY SMITH, 12

Young Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.
R. Smith, Hubert Dies
Early Today

FROM FLU, PNEUMONIA

Infant Brother Lies Ill in Adjoining
Room in Hospital
With Cold

The death angel took 12-year-old
Mary Smith of Hubert from the loving pleading arms of her mother
early today at the local hospital, as
the father knelt at her pillow whispering words of courage and love to
the dying girl.

In an adjoining room a six month
old brother lay on a bed watched
over carefully by a faithful nurse.

Mary Smith died at 1 a. m. today.
Her death tells a touching story of
the love of the ones dearest to her,
of her struggle to combat influenza
and pneumonia and then of her courage in meeting death.

She was not afraid. Her mother's loving arms were about her. Her strong father was there to protect
her. Kind physicians were present adding strength to her courage. Her death came as of sleep.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Smith of cold.

DIES 10 DAYS AFTER HUSBAND'S FUNERAL

Mrs. Johanna Brackner Passed Away
Last Evening at Hospital

Four Children Survive Aged Couple, Resident at 1211 Norwood Street

A heart claimed by her husband in life continued with him in spirit
through the valley of death to life
everlasting when Mrs. Johanna Brackner, 1211 Norwood street, passed away last evening.

Her death at the local hospital
came twelve days after her husband, Olof J. Brackner, 63, died after an illness of many months duration.
He was buried on December 24.

Through the many months of Mr.
Brackner's illness, Mrs. Brackner
administered to his every need. She remained at his bedside constantly.
After his death she became ill and
failed to rally through the few days
of her illness.

Miss Johanna Olson was married to Olof J. Brackner on February 1, 1890 and to them eight children
were born, four of whom are living,
being George and Werner of Minneapolis and Kenneth and Irma of BRAINERD.

Her husband was a retired blacksmith of the Northern Pacific railway shops here.

Mrs. Brackner was born May 7, 1868 at Vesträ Greve, Sweden. At the age of 14 years she came to BRAINERD with her aunt, Mrs. O. A.
Lindberg.

Two sisters, Mrs. Charles Peterson
and Mrs. P. A. Nelson, of BRAINERD, and one brother, Sven Olson, of Denmark, also survive.

2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Clara Lutheran church, Rev.
Samuelson officiating. Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery.

Schoemig, 18, and her 11-year-old brother Stephen, leaped to safety
from the second story of their home

their home cut off other means of jured. The fire which caused $5,000 damage was believed to have resulted from an overheated kitchen stove.

Proposed Building Would be 115
Feet by 60 Feet With Walls
20 Feet High

Men with the interest of the BRAINERD Y. M. C. A. keenly at heart
were optimistic today concerning the
future of the institution here.

The greatest improvement to the
building since its construction occupied
the attention of BRAINERD Y. M. C. A.
board members today as they
considered seriously the raising of $25,000 by public subscription for a
proposed new addition to house a
modern gymnasium.

Northern Pacific railway officials
are at present considering BRAINERD's
request for the donation of land sufficient to erect the new gymnasium.
The land desired is directly to the
rear of the present building on the northwest corner of Sixth and Front
streets.

Tentative plans outlined by George
E. Lowe, president of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. here call
for the erection of a brick building,
60 feet by 115 feet with walls 20 feet
in height, the building to be joined
to the present building with playing
floor space north and south.

The plans show the renovation of
the present gymnasium to locker and
shower rooms.

Board members feel that the gymnasium would tend to further increase the interest of the Y. M. C. A.
here and would accommodate conventions and large public gatherings.

The new gymnasium would be
constructed on the order of an armory with the seating arrangement in
bleacher style.

HIGHWAYS ARE GENERALLY GOOD

With unusually favorable weather
conditions during the past week,
Minnesota highways are as near 100
per cent "good" as they have ever
been. The weekly condition report
issued by the State Highway department today shows only a half dozen
"fair" stretches and one short "poor"
section. The gravel and dirt roads
are nearly all smooth, and all the
routes are practically free from snow
and ice.

Some of the traffic is using the new
grade on T. H. No. 1 between Geneva
and Albert Lea. This route is good
in cold weather, but in thawing weather traffic should continue to use
the detour.

Detailed reports of conditions on
the trunk roads in the BRAINERD Lake
Region follow:

ANGEL CLAIMS LIFE OF MARY SMITH, 12

Young Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.
R. Smith, Hubert Dies
Early Today

FROM FLU, PNEUMONIA

Infant Brother Lies Ill in Adjoining
Room in Hospital
With Cold

The death angel took 12-year-old
Mary Smith of Hubert from the loving pleading arms of her mother
early today at the local hospital, as
the father knelt at her pillow whis-
pering words of courage and love to
the dying girl.

In an adjoining room a six month
old brother lay on a bed watched
over carefully by a faithful nurse.

Mary Smith died at 1 a. m. today.
Her death tells a touching story of
the love of the ones dearest to her,
of her struggle to combat influenza
and pneumonia and then of her cour-
age in meeting death.

She was not afraid. Her mother's loving arms were about her. Her
strong father was there to protect
her. Kind physicians were present
adding strength to her courage. Her
death came as of sleep.

The young girl is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Smith of

cold.

life continued with him in spirit
through the valley of death to life
everlasting when Mrs. Johanna Brackner, 1211 Norwood street, passed

came twelve days after her husband,

He was buried on December 24.

Through the many months of Mr.
Brackner's illness, Mrs. Brackner
administered to his every need. She
remained at his bedside constantly.
After his death she became ill and
failed to rally through the few days
of her illness.

were born, four of whom are living,
being George and Werner of Minne-

CHAPTER LV.

THE realization grew upon Ann that the struggle of her own heart, her idealism and the yearnings of her nature, were far more vital than the surface happenings of her job—her career.

She was alone, now, with Steve in the office. Today or at most the next few days, would have to settle all of this bewildering business between them. For weal or woe she had to know her own heart. But it was a matter that could not be settled by the mind, by thinking. The deciding factor was the way a girl felt. Training and caution were of no avail. All thoughts of Steve Harrison while a contrary instinct prohibited such thing.

It was not fair to Steve to prolong the suspense. It was not even fair to herself because she was holding on to uncertainty and unhappiness. Once and for all she had to make a decision—and she felt her mind tightening.

"I want to talk to you," she said to Steve. "Sit down in that chair."

Meekly, he obeyed while she went into the box office and pulled down the opaque glass window in front of the wicket. She closed the door and locked it. No one, for the next few minutes would disturb them.

"I've not treated you right," she said with a forced calmness, "and I owe you a lot. From the very first I pretended, even to myself, that I was interested in you but really I was only interested in myself. The way you affected me was the important thing. I'm trying to look at the situation clearly. I think I've given you a pretty rotten deal, Steve Harrison."

"You oughtn't to have bothered with me at all," he said nervously. "You always acted on me like a shock of electricity. I ain't been myself since I got acquainted with you."

With difficulty Ann was holding under control a desire to mother him, to stroke his hair and ply him with kindness. In his jealousy of Jerry Dunn he had said brutal things to her, but they had not gone under her skin.

"I knew you were falling in love with me," she admitted, "and I did nothing to stop you. I encouraged you. I suppose there was a wanton streak in me that was waiting to see what would happen."

"Wanton? What does that mean?"

"Passion, I suppose you would call it—only it's not quite so respectable," Ann told him, courageously frank. "But that was only at first. All girls at times, I suppose, have the same feelings, but the wise ones suppress them. It's a kind of seeking for love, I imagine—a hunting for a mate."

These were things Steve Harrison could comprehend. "I know," he said. "I felt the same way about you."

"But that was only at first," Ann went on. "After while that feeling dropped into the background and it's still there. I wish it weren't. But mostly, now, I feel very deep and kindly toward you. I feel as though I had given you a wound from which you may never recover—and the responsibility is tremendous." She stood before him with shining eyes that were beginning to grow wet.

"You tremble like you had a chill," he said.

"It's only nervousness. I'll be better in a minute, Steve. You see, I want you to know that I couldn't help letting you fall in love with me. I could have helped it but I wasn't strong enough. That night in Jerry Dunn's room—I went there and slept all night in a big chair because I was so unstrung that I couldn't bear to be alone."

Something about his face began to twitch. "You poor kid!"

He came up from the chair and before she was able to disconnect him once more she was in his arms and he was holding her close, but there was no warmth in the embrace, no thrill in the contact. She was in his arms and he was holding her—but that was all. Both of them realized that the old magnetic current was dead.

time or another she's in love with three or four fellows. It's natural. People get married on a whole lot less love than we have got between us right now. I don't know what to say to you—only I know that if you would take a chance on me I'd be your slave. I'd die for you any day in the week."

Ann knew that he spoke the truth . . . he would be her slave . . . but she didn't want a slave.

The only man she could ever love would be one with strength to command her and rule her and to beat down any protest she could raise!

ment from the treasury to the justice department.

They will be taken up by the committee Monday but leaders are pessimistic about their chances of serious consideration at this session.

PEACE AND WAR TWIN SUBJECTS IN CONGRESS

SENATE RESUMES BORAH-REED FENCING DUEL OVER THE ANTI-WAR TREATY

HOUSE TAKES UP PROVISIONS OF THE ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 4.—(U.P.)—Peace and war were the twin subjects of discussion in congress today when the senate resumed the Borah-Reed fencing duel over the anti-war treaty and the house took up the army appropriation bill. The navy bill rested on the senate shelf to await disposition of the peace pact.

Today Borah was concluding his explanation and defense of the new 59-nation peace pact and Reed was pacing the floor waiting for an opportunity to answer him.

Borah's argument, delivered in his masterful debating style, is that the treaty is the best earnest effort the world has made toward peace. It embodies, he says, no obligation on the part of the United States to enforce it and gives every nation the right of self defense, allowing that nation to determine what it considers self defense.

The Monroe doctrine is fully protected under the self defense provision, he contends. He knows of no possibility whereby the doctrine or any other American right might become involved in the League of Nations to which all the other signatories of the treaty, belong, except the United States.

Reed, who is hiding his time to make the answer of the modest minority opposition, contends that either the treaty is worthless as an instrument of peace or it does involve the United States in some possibilities of conflict with European politics and the League.

Of other matters under consideration by the senate chief interest was lodged in the two prohibition bills before the judiciary committee. One by Jones of Washington proposes a senate investigation of prohibition and the other by King of Utah suggests transfer of prohibition enforce-

Emil Jannings in "Sins of the Fathers," A Paramount Picture

Portraying a character that is not unknown to the American audience, Emil Jannings scored another tremendous triumph last night at the opening performance of his latest Paramount starring picture, "Sins of the Fathers." As a German-American, Jannings is ideally cast for the part that he portrays. The film is now showing at the Lyceum theatre.

CHIEF ENGINEER IS BACK ON HIS FEET

Daniels Says Sargon Did Him More Good in One Month Than All Other Medicine Did in 5 Years

"Sargon did me more good in one month's time than all the other medicines and treatments I have taken put together during the past five years. That's a strong statement, I know, but it's a fact just the same.

"During all those years I was in a dreadfully nervous and rundown condition. For months at a time I would wake up about two or three in the mornings, and try as I might, I just couldn't get back to sleep, and when time came to go to work I felt weak, played out and miserable. Many times while seated at my desk I would feel so dull, drowsy and listless I would have given most anything in the world to feel right again. I had no appetite, and what I ate disagreed with me, for my stomach was badly disordered.

"Not eating or sleeping right will break down anybody's health, and that's exactly what it did for me. I took all kinds of medicines and treatments without benefit. Then, I started taking Sargon, and three bottles have made me like an entirely different man. I don't believe I ever in my life felt better than I do now.

"My appetite is fine and I eat what I want. My stomach is in perfect condition. I am no longer nervous and my sleep is good and sound. I'm full of new energy and am back at work and taking interest in things.

"Several of my friends have started taking Sargon on the strength of what it did for me."

"The above statement was made a few days ago by R. A. I. Daniels, chief engineer for the Minneapolis Cold Storage Co., 71 West Island, Minneapolis, one of the largest and most modern plants of its kind in the Northwest. Mr. Daniels is well known and highly respected.

Sargon may be obtained in Brainerd from H. P. Dunn; and in Pequot from A. S. Rasmussen. —adv
